

It's important that we have cohesion in our writing. To do this, we need to include synonyms, conjunctions and pronouns in our writing.

Synonyms - different words which have the same meaning.

Conjunctions - used to link ideas within a sentence.

Pronouns - used to show that the writer is referring back to a person or object they've already named.

NASTY WRITING!

Lesson 4

Can we modify this sentence with a synonym to make it cohesive?

They

Billy and Leila are sisters. Billy and Leila like to play hairdressers together.

so pleased.

It made me happy to see my friends happy.

NASTY WRITING!

Lesson 4

Modify this passage to add cohesion.

Ruby and her sister were feeling sad. Ruby and her sister were sad because they couldn't find their dog.

Then can you add an extra sentence with a conjunction this this passage?

Extension: Can you add an example of parenthesis to this passage?

You Do It Alone

(Independent)