I suggest you at least look at it as it has prompt question on there to help you with the planning process. Write in note form – you can turn your notes into sentences when you draft your story. Use the mindmaps you created this week to support the planning process – you have lots of ideas jotted down there. Once you have finished planning, if possible, act out your plan with someone at home! Add any speech you used that you think would fit into your narrative.
