

NASTY WRITING!

Thursday

If you are writing in the third person, you write about other people or characters.

You use the character's name or pronouns such as 'he', 'she' and 'they'.

Change this sentence from the first person to the third person.

Even though I knew it was safe, I was still too scared to walk in the treehouse alone.

Metacognition

Even though Ellie knew it was safe, she was still too scared to walk into the treehouse alone.

I Do

(Teacher example)

NASTY WRITING!

Thursday

If you are writing in the third person, you write about other people or characters.

You use the character's name or pronouns such as 'he', 'she' and 'they'.

Change this sentence from the first person to the third person.

I must not give up. The journey ahead was going to be long and difficult but I had to make it to the end.

Daniel must not give up. The journey ahead was going to be long and difficult but he had to make it to the end.

(Teacher example)

NASTY WRITING!

Thursday

If you are writing in the third person, you write about other people or characters.

You use the character's name or pronouns such as 'he', 'she' and 'they'.

Change this sentence from the first person to the third person.

I could barely see the space in front of my eyes, my heart was pounding like a drum.

Can you come up with your own sentences using the 3rd person?

You Do It Alone

(Independent)