

The Argument

A group of friends, who are slightly older than you, have asked if you can come to town on Saturday. Your parents are not keen for you to go. Continue the play script following on from the box below.

(Emma and Mum are in the kitchen.)

Emma: Mum! Anna and Henna are going to town on Saturday. They asked if I could go too. Is that O.K.?

(Mum has a concerned look on her face.)

Mum: I don't think so dear, you're much too young.

(Emma pleads.)

Emma: But Mum, I'll be fine.

(Dad enters the room.)

Dad: What are you two talking about?
