Keeping up to speed

We are very aware, both professionally and personally, how hard it is to keep up with communications from school and from everywhere else for that matter. Nobody has the time to search for letters they think they might have missed and my experience understandable parent anxiety of the consequences of missing important communications.

We hope the very clear links and organisation below will ensure you are able to find any school communication quickly and easily.

Hot School Meals – Pre-Ordering

This week Chartwells went live with new pre-ordered meal system. If your child has hot school meals, you must ensure these have been ordered in advanced on Parent Pay so the correct number of meals are delivered to the school. This must be done 2 weeks in advance.

If your child gets a free school meal and you do not order a meal, they will only get a jacket potato.

If you pay for a hot school meal for your child and you do not order a meal, there will be no lunch available for your child at the school.

If you need any assistance, please come to the school office.

Year 4 – Half Term Soundcheck Challenge

In the first 2 weeks after half term, year 4 children will participate in the Multiplication Tables Check. They have been working very hard to learn their tables facts, with the aim being that they can recall them within 6 seconds. To help support them, we are encouraging children to participate in our Soundcheck Challenge during half term. We recommend little and often practise – 10 minutes per day would be plenty! At this stage, Soundcheck is the most beneficial game for Year 4 children to play as it is in a very similar format to the MTC. Children may also have flash cards with them which they have made at school, to help them learn facts they don't know. Thank you for your support. For more information on the MTC, please visit our dedicated webpage by clicking this link:

<https://www.chesswood.w-sussex.sch.uk/page/?title=Multiplication+Tables+Check&pid=1332>

The Chesswood Junior School Soundcheck Challenge

Practise on Soundcheck to improve your score!

• You have 6 seconds per question.

• Avoid pressing the enter button. Wait for the 6 seconds to time out and for the next question to appear.

For every point that you improve your top score by, we will award you 10 housepoints.

If you get 25, we will award one housepoint for each 25/25 score you accomplish over half-term.

National Numeracy Day 2023

Maths fever struck Chesswood last week as we celebrated National Numeracy Day as a community. It was so pleasing to see so many children finding unique ways to dress as a number – here is a selection of some of the fantastic ways children dressed as a number:

In addition to this, Sam in 4LB baked this brilliant (and very tasty) chocolate brownie calculator! Amazing effort Sam!

TT Rock Stars Battle of the Bands

Every class in the school participated in year group TT Rock Stars Battle of the Bands competitions.

As a school, children answered over 600,000 questions on TT Rock Stars from Monday to Friday!

A staggering achievement!

The winning classes in each year group were 3PB, 4MP, 5JS and 6AH – congratulations to these classes.

The top scoring children from each class were:

3HC – Elliot, 3PB – Diya, 3DH – Tristan, 3HC – Julianna

4MP – Yahia, 4EV – Heilyn, 4LB – Joshua, 4CR – Rocco, 4LH – Maja

5JS – Ming-Kai, 5CL – Leon, 5ML – Alvin, 5HM – Toby M, 5AL – Hridishtitha

6NB – Youssef, 6AH – William, 6SJ – Eilin, 6NB – Haneen, 6NS – Danny, 6PO – Samuel, 6RW - Lois

The Top 3 scoring children from each class will receive their certificates in their year group assembly and have their photo displayed on the TT Rock Stars Hall of Fame wall in the Year 4 corridor. Year 4 are participating in additional Battle of the Bands competitions for the next 3 weeks to help prepare them for the Multiplication Tables Check in June. Well done to everyone for taking part – thank you for your support!

What Parents & Carers Need to Know about INFLUENCERS

In today's digital age, social media influencers play an increasingly significant role in shaping the opinions, interests and behaviours of our children. While many of these individuals can have a positive effect, influencer culture can also present certain risks – such as encouraging consumerism, affecting self-esteem and blurring trustworthiness. To help ensure a safe online environment for young people, it's vital to maintain open communication, set sensible boundaries, promote a healthy self-image and teach digital media literacy. Our guide delves deeper into all of these.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

HEIGHTENED CONSUMERISM

A major way that influencers make money is through brand partnerships and sponsored content. As a result, children who follow them may be exposed to a steady stream of advertising; this can lead to materialistic attitudes, unrealistic expectations and an increased desire to have the latest products. Many influencers have built huge brand empires around their large, impressionable following.

THE SOFT SELL

Some influencers aren't always transparent about the motivations behind their posts, blurring the lines between genuine recommendations and paid-for promotions – and young people sometimes find it difficult to distinguish authentic content from advertising. Many major social platforms have taken steps to make sponsored content and ads easier to identify, but it remains an area of concern.

PRIVACY CONCERNS

Inspired by their favourite influencers, children may start sharing more of their own lives online – which could reveal personal information or details about their daily routine. This openness can put them at risk of cyberbullying or even predatory behaviour. This is exacerbated by live streaming, which gives young people no time to consider the potential consequences of saying too much.

UNDERMINING SELF-ESTEEM

Many influencers share images and videos of themselves and their activities, which are often painstakingly curated and edited to present an idealised version of their life. Children who follow these influencers may develop distorted expectations about body image and the concept of beauty, which can potentially lead to negative self-esteem and even mental health issues.

Advice for Parents & Carers

KEEP TALKING

Chat to your child about the content they consume on social media and the influencers that they like. Encourage them to think critically about what they see and hear online, and listen to any concerns they might have. Maintaining this line of open, honest communication can help your child to make informed decisions about which individuals they follow and what content they engage with.

SET SOME BOUNDARIES

Agree age-appropriate boundaries for your child's social media use, including time limits and privacy settings (the two major operating systems on mobile devices, Android and iOS, have these controls baked in). Try to keep an eye on your child's online activity and discuss it regularly with them – including reminding them of the potential risks that can arise from following influencers.

SUPPORT A HEALTHY SELF-IMAGE

Reinforce your child's awareness that real life isn't usually as picture perfect as it may appear on social media – and how some content (particularly that of influencers) is often curated, staged or edited to look more glamorous. If possible, highlight examples of other influencers who share authentic, relatable material which acknowledges their imperfections and struggles as well.

PROMOTE MEDIA LITERACY

Talk to your child about the concepts of sponsored content, advertising and potential influencer bias. Teach them to critically evaluate the information they're presented with online and to consider the possible reasons behind content creation. This can help young people develop the skills to make healthier decisions about the influencers they choose to follow and the content they consume.

Meet Our Expert

A former director of digital learning and currently a deputy headmaster and DSL, Brendan O'Keefe's experience and expertise gives him a clear insight into how modern digital systems impact the experiences of children, staff and parents – and which strategies help to ensure that the online world remains a useful education resource rather than a minefield of risks.

Streetsafe online reporting tool

The StreetSafe online tool was introduced in October 2021 by the Home Office as part of the government's strategy to tackle violence against women and girls.

The StreetSafe tool allows people to tell us anonymously about public places where they have felt or feel unsafe, either because of environmental issues or because of negative behaviours they've experienced in a public place.

The StreetSafe app works in the same way as the online tool on the website and people can plot on the map where they have felt or feel unsafe.

All information gathered is shared with local authorities and other partner agencies to gain a better understanding of how people feel in an area and what measures, activities or initiatives can be put in place to help people feel safer.

A good example of taking direct action in response to public concerns was the purchase of eight pairs of mobile CCTV cameras which are deployed in areas that have been highlighted as unsafe.

This tool is now available as a free app to download, however that this isn't an alternative to reporting crime.
