Introduction

In the new curriculum for English, there is a very significant emphasis placed on GPS (Grammar, Punctuation and Spelling).

This booklet outlines the expectations for Year 3 -

- The statutory word list (100 words) for Years 3 and 4
- The spelling rules / patterns covered in Years 3 and 4
- The grammar foci for Year 3
- The technical vocabulary pupils need to understand in Year 3

Parental Support

The expectations of the new curriculum have increased significantly. Pupils in the current Year 3 will not have covered the full curriculum (Years 1 to 6) by the time they take the statutory tests in Year 6 (they are starting the new curriculum this year). This means there will be gaps in their knowledge and understanding which we will be seeking to 'backfill' during the course of the year. Parents can support their children by having a good understanding of the expectations and maintain a focus on spelling and grammar at home.

1. Spelling

1.1. Statutory Word List

The word-lists for years 3 and 4 are statutory. The list is a mixture of words pupils frequently use in their writing and those which they often misspell. Parents can support children by ensuring they are familiar with these words by applying them using the range of games and activities listed in this booklet. They will also be a focus of homework and tests throughout the year.

1.2. Spelling Foci in Year 3 & 4

Below are the rules and patterns we will focus on in Year 3 & 4.

Spelling Pattern	Rules and Guidance	Example Words	Tick when tested successfully
Adding suffixes beginning with vowel letters to words of more than one syllable	If the last syllable of a word is stressed and ends with one consonant letter which has just one vowel letter before it, the final consonant letter is doubled before any ending beginning with a vowel letter is added. The consonant letter is not doubled if the syllable is	forgetting, forgotten, beginning, beginner, prefer, preferred gardening, gardener, limiting, limited, limitation

The 'u' (c u p) sound spelt ou	These words should be learnt as needed.	young, touch, double, trouble, country
More prefixes	Most prefixes are added to the beginning of root words without any changes in spelling, but see in– below.
	Like un– , the prefixes dis– and mis– have negative meanings.	dis– : disappoint, disagree, disobey mis– : misbehave, mislead, misspell (mis + spell)
	The prefix in– can mean both 'not' and 'in'/'into'. In the words given here it means 'not'. Before a root word starting with I, in– becomes i I. Before a root word starting with m or p, in– becomes im–	in–: inactive, incorrect illegal, illegible immature, immortal, impossible, impatient, imperfect irregular, irrelevant, irresponsible
	Before a root word starting with r, in – becomes ir–. re– means 'again' or 'back'.	re–: redo, refresh, return, reappear, redecorate
	sub– means 'under'. inter– means 'between' or 'among'.	sub-: subdivide, subheading, submarine, submerge inter-: interact, intercity, international, interrelated (inter + related)
	super– means 'above'.	super-: supermarket, superman,

3. Year 3 Grammar Terminology

preposition	A preposition links a following noun, pronoun or noun phrase to some other word in the sentence. Prepositions often describe locations or directions, but can describe other things, such as relations of time. Words like before or since can act either as prepositions or as	Tom waved goodbye to Christy. She'll be back from Australia in two weeks. I haven't seen my dog since this morning. Contrast: I'm going, since no-one wants me here! [conjunction: links two clauses] conjunctions.

conjunction	 A conjunction links two words or phrases together. There are two main types of conjunctions: co-ordinating conjunctions (e.g. and) link two words or phrases together as an equal pair subordinating conjunctions (e.g. when) introduce a subordinate clause. 	James bought a bat and ball. [links the words bat and ball as an equal pair] Kylie is young but she can kick the ball hard. [links two clauses as an equal pair] Everyone watches when Kyle does back-flips. [introduces a subordinate clause] Joe can't practise kicking because he's injured. [introduces a subordinate clause]
word family	The words in a word family are normally related to each other by a combination of morphology, grammar and meaning.	teach – teacher extend – extent – extensive grammar – grammatical – grammarian
prefix	A prefix is added at the beginning of a word in order to turn it into another word.	over take, dis appear clause	A clause is a group of words or phrase that includes a subject and a verb. Clauses can sometimes be complete sentences. Clauses may be main or subordinate. Traditionally, a clause had to have a finite verb, but most modern grammarians also recognise non- finite clauses.	It was raining. [single-clause sentence] It was raining but we were indoors . [two finite clauses] If you are coming to the party, please let us know . [finite subordinate clause inside a finite main clause] Usha went upstairs to play on her computer . [non-finite clause] subordinate clause	A subordinate clause is a clause that cannot stand alone as a complete sentence because it does not express a complete thought. Like all clauses, a subordinate clause has a subject and verb. However, clauses that are directly quoted as direct speech are not subordinate clauses.	That's the street where Ben lives . [relative clause; modifies street] He watched her as she disappeared . [adverbial; modifies watched] She noticed an hour had passed. [acts as object of noticed] Not subordinate: He shouted, "Look out!"
direct speech	Direct speech repeats, or quotes, the exact words spoken. When we use direct speech in writing, we place the words spoken between inverted commas (speech marks) (" ").	Anne asked: "Are you really going to see 'Phantom of the Opera'?" "There's a fly in my soup!" screamed Simone.

consonant	A sound which is produced when the speaker closes off or obstructs the flow of air through the vocal tract, usually using lips, tongue or teeth.	 /p/ [flow of air stopped by the lips, then released] /t/ [flow of air stopped by the tongue touching the roof of the mouth, then released] /f/ [flow of air obstructed by the bottom lip touching the top teeth] /s/ [flow of air obstructed by the tip of the tongue touching the gum line]
consonant letter	Most of the letters of the alphabet represent consonants. Only the letters a, e, i, o, u and y can represent vowel sounds.
Vowel	A vowel is a speech sound which is produced without any closure or obstruction of the vocal tract. Vowels can form syllables by themselves, or they may combine with consonants.
vowel letter	In the English writing system, the letters a, e, i, o, u and y can represent vowels.
inverted commas (or 'speech marks')	 Inverted commas for direct speech: to mark the beginning and end of direct speech (i.e. a speaker's words written down exactly as they were spoken) 	"What time will he arrive?" she asked. "You're right," he said. "It feels strange." "No!" he cried. "You can't leave now!"
