Weekly Competition / Challenge

NHS Nightingale (a temporary hospital that has been set up in London to help people with the Coronavirus) would like to share decorations made by children using the #RainbowsForNightingale – they are working on a way to receive decorations to put up. Closer to home, the staff room of Worthing hospital’s children’s ward needs your help too. They would love to receive drawings and paintings of rainbows to help decorate the walls. The images need to be no bigger than an A4 piece of paper so that they can be laminated at school.

Challenge - draw beautiful, colourful and cheerful pictures and then email them to ctv@chesswood.w-sussex.sch.uk and copy in your class teacher too. We will share these on the school website, print and laminate them and then send these onto the hospitals when possible so that they can be used.

Turning Tides, an organisation that seeks to end homelessness is running an Easter competition. They are challenging entrants to write a poem or draw a picture around two themes – home is where the heart is, and hope for homeless. The deadline for this competition is the 24th April 2020. You can find more information about how to enter here: <https://www.turning-tides.org.uk/how-to-help/educational-resources/>
