	Weekly Task: Do you remember in the Autumn term, we wrote diary entries as if we were a child in space? This week, you will be writing an informal diary about your week. Each day, you will be writing from a different perspective (as if you were a different person). Make sure you include all of the language devices of the success criteria in your writing. You can base this writing on real life, merge days from real life together to make it more exciting or write about what you wish was happening to you on this day!  Monday – write from your own perspective. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday – you should write from a different perspective each day. Whose perspective you write from is your choice. Here are some ideas: your parent, your sibling, your pet, your friend, a toy, a made-up character.	See resources on Monday. Mon - Writing - Success Criteria  Remember to plan, draft and edit your work.  Why not video you reading your diary entry and email it to your class teacher?	20
