1. Introduction

At Chesswood we firmly believe that for all pupils to gain the greatest possible benefit from their education, both academically and social, regular school attendance is of vital importance. Non-attendance at school, even for short periods, can impact on academic achievement. Any absence also disrupts teaching and learning for others in the class as important work missed by an absent child will have to be addressed. Regular attendance is also important for setting an expectation for future patterns of behaviour as they become part of the working world. To this end we will do all we can to encourage parents/carers to ensure that the children in their care achieve maximum possible attendance and that any problems that prevent full attendance are identified and acted on promptly.

Although the guiding principles and procedures by which the School will address matters of attendance and punctuality are clearly outlined within this policy, it is recognised that the professional judgments made by Senior Leaders may lead to decisions which deviate in some aspect of policy in response to an individual set of circumstances.

2. Attendance and the Law

All children of compulsory school age (five to 16) should receive suitable education, either by regular attendance at school or through other arrangements, suitable to their age, ability and to any special educational need that may be present. Parents are responsible for ensuring that this is adhered to. If a child is registered at school, parents have the primary legal responsibility for ensuring that their child attends regularly. Alternative provision for education can be made, for example, a parent choosing to educate their child at home choose to educate their child at home).

3. Expectations and Responsibilities

4. Promoting Good Attendance

The importance of regular attendance is recognized by all staff at Chesswood. Chesswood School encourages regular attendance in the following ways:

- By providing a caring and welcoming learning environment which engages pupils in their learning;
- By responding promptly to a child's or parent's concerns about the school or other pupils;
- By marking registers accurately and punctually during morning and afternoon registration. If pupils arrive at school after the close of the register without a written explanation, the lateness will be recorded as an unauthorised absence and the pupil's name recorded in the late book and register in case of a fire drill;
- By celebrating 100% attendance or improving attendance. Celebrating weekly the class in each year group with the highest weekly attendance and displaying the results.
- Report individual pupil attendance figures on school reports to parents.
- By monitoring pupils, informing parents/carers in writing of irregular attendance, arranging meetings with them if necessary and referring the family to the Education Welfare if the irregular attendance continues.
- Providing information for parents via newsletter or specific communication regarding the effects of non-attendance and school attendance progress and statistics.
- Setting attendance targets for the school. Targets may also be set for cohorts or classes where a need is recognised.

Pupil Attendance Policy

- Early intervention when pupil attendance gives cause for concern.
- Providing support systems for the most vulnerable pupils.

5. Monitoring Levels of Attendance

Monitoring and tracking attendance will make use of the following colour coded thresholds:

Category	Attendance
Blue	99% - 100%
Green	96% - 98.99%
Yellow	93% – 95.99%
Amber	90% - 92.99%
Red	=< 89.99%

It is recognised that cases of absence may be of an individual nature and, subsequently, responses to these may be different depending on circumstance. However, as a general rule, pupils whose attendance falls below 92% will be subject to review and parental contact made (letter, phone call or meeting) to discuss the issue, if there are no clear mitigating circumstances. It is noted that the first half term of any academic year can present low percentage figures due to the lower of possible attendance days. Pupils whose attendance falls to a level of 90% or below are considered 'persistent absentees'. These pupils will be subject to specific action and their case discussed with the Educational Welfare Service where required.

6. Responding to Non-Attendance

When a pupil does not attend school we will respond in the following manner:

- On the first day of absence, if no note, email or telephone call is received from the parent/carer by 11 a.m., and a physical check has confirmed the absence, the school will endeavour to contact them that day. If there is no response, the school will continue to try to contact the parent/carer. A log of all phone calls made will be kept by the Attendance Admin. Officer.
- Information gained from first day calls will be used by the Attendance Admin. Assistant to update the registers.
- If by the end of the second day, there has still been no contact made, (third day if waiting for a response to a letter), the school will send a letter of concern to parents/carers or invite them into school to discuss their concerns. The school will tell parents that if the absence persists that the matter will be discussed with the Education Welfare Officer.

Pupil Attendance Policy

- Failure to comply with the expectations set by the EWO may result in further action, an application for an Education Supervision Order, or court prosecution.

7. Authorised and Unauthorised Absence

The School will classify each half day absence as either authorised or unauthorised depending on the circumstances. This is solely a school decision based on the information provided.

An absence will be authorised for reasons deemed valid in accordance to local and national guidance. These might include:

- Illness
- Medical appointments unavoidably scheduled in school time
- Authorised leave of absence
- Emergencies or exceptional circumstances

An absence will be deemed unauthorised where the School does not consider that valid reason has not been given or no explanation of absence has been provided. These might include:

- Parents/carers keeping children off school unnecessarily
- Birthday treats
- Days out
- Shopping trips
- Late after the register closes
- Holidays in term time which have not been agreed
- Unexplained absence

Approved educational activities whereby a child may be not present on the school site are deemed to present in relation to attendance return figures. These include activities such as:

- Educational day visits
- Residential visits
- Sporting events

8. Absence for Religious Observance

Chesswood acknowledges the multi-faith nature of our local community and recognises that on some occasions, very significant religious festivals may fall outside school holiday periods or weekends and this requires a consideration of authorised absence or special leave for religious observance.

It is considered reasonable for a parent to allow their children not to attend school on any day of such a religious observance, if recognised by the parent's religious body. Parents are requested to give advance notice to the school and seek authorisation using the 'Request Term Time Absence' form.

9. Request for Absence During Term Time

In line with Government legislation, leave of absence during term time will not be granted unless there are exceptional circumstances. If such circumstances exist, then the matter should be discussed with the school well in advance (if circumstances permit) of any intended absence period. Subsequently, the request should be submitted in writing using 'Request Term Time Absence' form, along with any further supporting evidence or documentation. The Head Teacher or Pastoral Deputy Head will decide whether or not the absence can be authorised. No parent can demand leave of absence for their child/children as a right.

Parents are expected to arrange scheduled time off, such as holidays or other overseas visits and family gatherings, during the non-term time periods. There are 175 non term time days across any given year. This represents ample opportunity to organise and take family related activities or holidays.

The maximum number of days that can be authorised (in exceptional circumstances) either side of a 2 week or more school holiday period is 5 days, even if travelling overseas for family circumstances. Three weeks is considered sufficient time to deal with family matters overseas and return to school.

If parents take their child out of school for a period of absence without the agreement of the School, following full discussion regarding the circumstances for the request, then the absence will be recorded unauthorised. Such action may result in a fixed penalty notice. In any circumstance where absence has been authorised by the school, if the child does not return to school on the date agreed then the additional absence will be recorded as unauthorised.

10. Other Exceptional Absence

Chesswood School will make every effort to remain open under all circumstances. However school closure may be unavoidable due to unforeseen circumstances. In the event of such a closure the non-attendance of pupils will not be counted in Chesswood Schools attendance statistics, as set out in regulation 6(5)(a).

However, where Chesswood School is able to remain open under adverse conditions, any pupil who is not able to get to school a pupil may be marked as unable to attend on the school attendance register. This is intended to capture circumstances in which children are unable get to school because of serious disruption to travel caused by:

- a weather-related emergency, such as snow or flooding
- a natural disaster, such as the impact on air travel of a volcanic eruption
- a health-related emergency, such as restrictions on travel in certain areas related to a foot and mouth outbreak
- travel disruption caused by the rationing or non-availability of fuel.

The exceptional circumstances in which a pupil may be marked as unable to attend are where:

(a) the school site, or part of it, is closed due to unavoidable cause at a time when pupils are due to attend; or

(b) in the case of a pupil for whom transport to school is provided by the school or a local education authority, and whose home is not within walking distance of the school, that transport is not available.

(c) a local or national emergency has resulted in widespread disruption to travel which has prevented the pupil from attending school.

This section of the policy sets out the circumstances which would justify schools' use of the relevant attendance code (Y code), without itemising every conceivable kind of emergency that would count as exceptional circumstances. The Head Teachers will use his discretion about when to apply the Y code, while exercising that judgment within the parameters of the Dfe regulations.

11. Punctuality

It is important that children arrive at school on time. Poor punctuality has an adverse effect on learning. If a child misses the start of the day then they will miss the vital teaching input at the start of the day. Late arriving pupils also disrupt the learning of others. The following procedure is followed:

- Children are expected to arrive between 8:30 a.m. and 8:50 a.m.. Children may enter the school at 8:50 at the beginning of the school day.
- Teachers are expected to complete the class register before 9:00 a.m. and ensure it is returned to the school office.
- School gates are closed at 8:50 a.m. .

Pupil Attendance Policy

- Children arriving after 8:50 a.m. are expected to register at the school office and will be recorded in the late book and be given a late slip to show their class teacher. This is to ensure that class teachers are aware that the child has been registered.
- Children arriving between 8.50 a.m. and 9.20 a.m. will be recorded as late. Children arriving after 9.20 a.m. will be recorded as late after the register has closed. This will be recorded as an unauthorised absence, unless a valid reason has been provided, e.g. medical appointment.

Punctuality data will be closely monitored. Parents will be informed of regular poor punctuality and the issue discussed in order to secure an improvement.

12. Legal Sanctions

The School will make every effort to work with pupils and parents, providing appropriate support, in order to secure improvements in attendance. Unauthorised absence may lead to the issuing of a fixed penalty notice. Where parents fail or refuse to engage with the support offered and further unauthorised absence occurs the School, in conjunction with the Educational Welfare Service, will consider the use of legal sanctions. Such action will not be taken lightly but may be necessary in order to return pupils to their education with required levels of attendance and secure full parental understanding of their legal obligation to ensure school attendance, i.e. if a parent fails to ensure the regular school attendance of their child if he/she is a registered pupil at a school and is of compulsory school age, then they are guilty of an offence.

All potential decisions regarding a legal response to non-attendance will be discussed fully with the Educational Welfare Service, who will determine the most suitable course of action. Alternatives to court prosecution will be considered, including:

- Fixed Penalty Notices (see appendix)

These will be considered when:

- A pupil is absent from school for the purpose of a holiday in term time and the absence has not been authorised by the school
- A pupil has accumulated at least ten sessions of unauthorised absence and further unauthorised absence has occurred following written warning to improve

- Educational Supervision Orders

These are used as an alternative to prosecution and are:

- intended to support parents in fulfilling their legal responsibilities
- only suitable when there is co-operation between the Local Authority and the family

If an Educational Supervision Order is granted then a supervising officer will be appointed and is likely to be an appropriate representative from the school.

13. Recording Attendance

The Education (Pupil Registration) (England) Regulations 2006, require schools to take an attendance register twice a day, once at the start of the morning session and then again during the afternoon session.

The register must record whether the pupil was

- present;
- absent;
- present at approved educational activity; or
- unable to attend due to exceptional circumstances.

14. Changing Schools

It is important that if families decide to send the child/children in their care to a different school that they inform Chesswood Middle school staff, in writing, as soon as possible. A pupil will not be removed from the Chesswood school roll until the following information has been received and investigated:

- the date the pupil will be leaving this school and starting the next;
- the address of the new school;
- the new home address, if it is known.

The pupil's school records will then be sent on to the new school as soon as possible. In the event that the school has not been informed of the above information, the family will be referred to the Education welfare.

15. Policy Review and Development

This policy will be reviewed on two yearly basis. Procedures outlined in this policy will be monitored and evaluated on an on-going basis. If any event or circumstance reveals deficiencies within any aspect of the policy then remedial action will be taken without delay and the policy amended accordingly.
