

This term, we are creating our lino prints of our faces. Most of you won't have this equipment at home so we would like you to research lino printing. We would like you to find out the process of what you do, what equipment is needed and to create your own opinion about whether or not you like this type of art.

Extension: research the artists who create these prints.

Lino Print artist case study - Irena Sibley Australian artist, illustrator, writer and art teacher.

