

Grammar, punctuation and spelling.

Spot the conjunctions - are they subordinating or coordinating conjunctions?

They were late for the show however they arrived on time.

We arrived at school so we went into the classroom.

Grammar, punctuation and spelling.

Add an apostrophe.

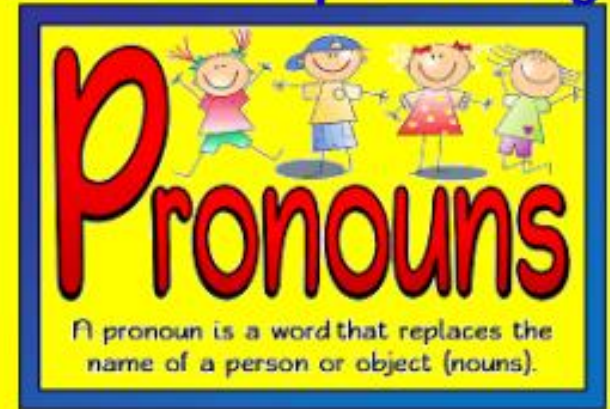

The ladies husbands
were waiting for them.

The ladys coat was carefully hung up.

Grammar, punctuation and spelling.

Spot the possessive pronouns:

The beautiful, shiny bike was his.

Give me back the book, it's mine.

He left it at our house.

Grammar, punctuation and spelling.

Match each sentence to its correct function.

command

How many people want chips

question (?)

When you have finished,
read.

exclamation (!)

Most dogs like eating sausages.

statement

What a beautiful dress
you are wearing!

Grammar, punctuation and spelling.

Use a subordinate conjunction to add to each subordinate clause.

And, but or so?

I don't visit the library very much. I do like reading.

The horse was spooked. It kicked out in fright.

Mary climbed the ladder. She got into the top bunk.

Grammar, punctuation and spelling.

Past progressive or present progressive?

He was walking past the shops.

I am finishing my drink before I leave.

Wow! It is amazing.

Grammar, punctuation and spelling.

Modal verbs

Which event is most likely to happen?

We could go out for lunch today.

This afternoon, Josie might play tennis.

The sun will come out tomorrow.

Michael should get a shower tonight.

Grammar, punctuation and spelling.

Underline the subordinate clause

I love playing football, even though I never win.

Because I was in Paris, I went up the Eiffel Tower.

Grammar, punctuation and spelling

What can we add as a prefix?

regular responsible relevant

Make-up sentences using the new words.

Grammar, punctuation and spelling.

Spot the prepositions.

