

WALT: To use slow writing to practice writing the start of a survival guide.

So, you want to make new friends at school?

There will always a group of children who feel the same and have similar interests as you e.g. reading, gaming or sports.

---

They may be sat alone until someone is brave enough to talk first.

---

People with similar interests tend to get along as they share passions and experiences.

---

Additionally, this makes for a great conversation starter.

---

Challenge yourself! Sit next to them, you won't regret it.
