

NASTY WRITING!

Lesson 2

Year 5 punctuation expectations

- ★ Capital letters, including for proper nouns (names)
- ★ Apostrophes for contraction and possession
- ★ Use of commas with relative clauses and fronted adverbials
- ★ Use of brackets, dashes or commas to indicate parenthesis

NASTY WRITING!

Lesson 2

Example: Jasper's dog (which often ran away) was missing.

Correctly punctuate this sentence.

on friday stanley found pollys pen on the floor.

Metacognition

NASTY WRITING!

Lesson 2

Example: Jasper's dog (which often ran away) was missing.

Correctly punctuate this sentence.

the woman who was exhausted fell asleep
on her friends sofa.

(Teacher models)

NASTY WRITING!

Example: Jasper's dog (which often ran away) was missing.

Correctly punctuate this passage.

on thursday we are going to the beach to see grandads boat. we are then going to get some lunch at billys cafe.

Extension: Can you add two examples of parenthesis to this passage?

You Do It Alone

(Independent)

WALT proof read our biographies

What is proofreading?

Today we will be hunting for any punctuation errors we may have made yesterday.

If you need more writing time, use 20 minutes of today's session before proofreading for the remaining 25 minutes.

WALT proofread our biographies

Lesson 2

Today, you will be proofreading your work.
You need to check the following:

- capital letters, including for proper nouns Aa
- commas for lists, fronted adverbials and relative clauses ,
- brackets, dashes or commas to indicate parenthesis () -- ,,
- full stops .
- apostrophes for contractions and possession '
- question marks/exclamation marks ?!
- inverted commas for quotations " "

WALT proofread our biographies

Lesson 2

How can we proofread this writing?

Class model - focus on adding in punctuation

Editing page

early life

Rosen was born in May 1946 in Harrow, North London. He then lived in Middlesex (flat 30A bridge street pinner, before he became a secondary school English teacher, Rosens father was in the american Army in germany. In 1948, when Rosen was two, his mum trained to be a primary teacher.

Success Criteria

- capital letters, including for proper nouns Aa
- commas for lists, fronted adverbials and relative clauses ,
- brackets, dashes or commas to indicate parenthesis () -- ,,
- full stops .
- apostrophes for contractions and possession '
- question marks/exclamation marks ?!
- inverted commas for quotations " "

Metacognition

WALT proofread our biographies

Lesson 2

Now it is your turn to proof read your own writing - look for everything listed in the success criteria. Use the right hand, editing page to make any changes clear.

Early Life

Rosen was born in May 1946 in Harrow, North London. He then lived in Middlesex (flat 30A Bridge Street, pinner.

Before he became a secondary school English teacher, Rosens father was in the American Army in Germany. In 1948, when Rosen was two, his mum trained to be a primary teacher.

Editing page

- capital letters, including for proper nouns Aa
- commas for lists, fronted adverbials and relative clauses ,
- brackets, dashes or commas to indicate parenthesis () -- ,,
- full stops .
- apostrophes for contractions and possession '
- question marks/exclamation marks ?!
- inverted commas for quotations " "

Metacognition

Lesson 2

Starting at the top of the success criteria, read through and count up how many examples you have of each. What might you need to go back to and add in?

