

WALT write a biography, using fronted adverbials for cohesion

Lesson 4

You have now planned your biography.

We're excited to see who you have chosen to write about!

Today, you're going to use your plan to write your biography.

WALT write a biography, using fronted adverbials for cohesion

Lesson 4

Reminder:

How are biographies organised?

Paragraphs

Chronological order

What information do they include?

Facts

Opinion - remember to add your opinion to your plan!

Subject specific vocabulary

Biography success criteria				SA	PA
Structure
			Opening introduces the person and hooks the reader in
			Key events in chronological order
			Ending includes a summary and what the person will be remembered for
			Own opinion included somewhere
Language
			Past tense
			Third person
			Adverbials and conjunctions for time order
			Capital letters for proper nouns: people and places
			Facts and figures linked to key events
			Direct or indirect quotes
			Anecdotal style to engage the reader

WALT write a biography, using

Lesson 4

Main task

Now it's time to draft our biography using our plan and subheadings - remember that this time you also need to write your introduction!

Early Life

- David Edward Walliams born August 20, 1971, London, England.
- Father = engineer, mother = lab technician.
- University of Bristol from 1988 to 1992. Bachelor's degree in drama.

Plan

(Teacher to model how to turn the plan into a paragraph, using the subheading, fronted adverbials and features from the success criteria.)

Biography success criteria			SA	PA
Structure
		Opening introduces the person and hooks the reader in
		Key events in chronological order
		Ending includes a summary and what the person will be remembered for
		Own opinion included somewhere
Language
		Past tense
		Third person
		Adverbials and conjunctions for time order
		Capital letters for proper nouns: people and places
		Facts and figures linked to key events
		Direct or indirect quotes
		Anecdotal style to engage the reader

Metacognition

I Do

Left hand page only!

Remember to keep it exciting and engaging from start to end!

(Teacher example)

Your turn!

Wow us with everything that you have learnt about biographies over the last couple of weeks!

Make it engaging.

Add your opinion.

Send us what you have done! We LOVE seeing your work!!

